"What sets Douglas apart from a regular beauty academy is that there are other programs and they do let you work all together and learn other experiences. I've met people from the entire world at Douglas. I've worked with students from the Tom Savini Special Makeup Effects program, the film program, all of the makeup programs and even the medical programs."

"The instructors at Douglas have been teaching for a very long time. You get a more hands-on feel there. The portfolio that they help you build is phenomenal and no other school gives you that.
